22nd Annual Production of “The Nutcracker” in West Valley City

WHAT: 22nd annual production of “The Nutcracker” by Miss Margene’s Creative Generation Dance Company

WHEN: December 9th and 10th, 7:00 p.m.

WHERE: Hunter High School, 4200 South 5600 West

WHO: Everyone is invited. All tickets are $4 at the door.

WHY: For the past 22 years, thousands of children have had the opportunity to perform in “The Nutcracker,” presented by Miss Margene’s Creative Generation Dance Company. This year, the West Valley City Arts Council and Cultural Arts Board are pleased to present the 22nd annual production. The creative, modern dance production will feature more than 300 dancers. Special effects include a 25-foot growing Christmas tree, an incredible presentation of Mother Buffoon, snow, and fog.

The production is sponsored in part by the West Valley City Arts Council and is directed and choreographed by Margene Conde.

“As we present our 22nd Nutcracker I reflect back on how many children (more than 6000) have had the opportunity to dance this Creative Modern Dance version of this Holiday Classic,” says “Miss Margene” Conde. “All of my staff that are teaching at our studio, 3 as Graduates from the University of Utah Dance Department, were in the 5 to 7 year old classes in our first productions in 1987.”
